How to implement face to face driver model

- The student in question has already mastered the concepts in the lesson plan and is left unchallenged by the teaching that the rest of the class is receiving. In such cases, rather than allowing disruptive behavior to interfere with the majority of the students' education the teacher will give them more challenging work online.
- In the same manner to help the slow learner the teacher can arrange remedial classes.

- The lesson is based around the completion of a central "task" (activity), usually in pairs or groups.
- TBL often includes these stages
